Parish News

During this coming week, we'll celebrate Independence Day. I hope that, as we celebrate this important day in the life of our country, we can also make time to pray for our nation and thank God for the many blessings that we enjoy here. We certainly have much for which we ought to be grateful in our country, most especially the religious liberty that allows us to live out our Catholic faith in an integral and public way. In many parts of our world even today, our fellow Catholics are not so fortunate. The liberty that we enjoy here has been purchased again and again by many courageous sacrifices, for which we must be eternally grateful. At the same time, that liberty is never secure and it must be defended in every generation. We have a great need—and always will—for Catholics who dare to live lives of holiness and faith in spite of the voices that call for our conformity to an increasingly secular and materialistic culture. As we celebrate our country's independence, let's give thanks to God for the liberty that we enjoy here by using that liberty to offer a public witness to Him by living out our Catholic faith with courage and conviction every day.
