Parish News

This Sunday's Gospel reading recounts the Lord's instructions given to the Apostles as He sends them out to preach repentance and prepare the people of the surrounding towns to receive Him. As the spiritual descendants of those first Christians, we hear His words as being addressed to us as well. Of particular importance is the fact that Jesus sends out His disciples two by two. From the very beginning, our faith has not been a private matter. We live it out in the communion of the Church and it sends us on mission to make Christ known to every person we encounter. Still today the Lord sends us out to prepare His way in every human heart. Let's pray during the week ahead about the people and places and situations to which God is sending us to make Him known, so that all people might be gathered into the communion of His life and love.
